

PASS 1

- 12.30 – 12.40 Welcome!
Jan Wejdmark, founder of World Forest Forum
Tomas Lundmark, Professor Emeritus in Forest Management, World Forest Forum
-
- 12.40 – 13.10 Prerequisites for impactful and efficient private sector investment in natural resource conservation and management
How can opportunities be created on a global level for the private market to make investments to preserve and develop biodiversity?
Maxim Vergeichik, Senior Nature Economist, UNDP
-
- 13.10 – 13.40 How does Ericsson work with biodiversity - what does the future look like?
In what way does Ericsson measure the impact its operations have on biodiversity, and how does the company follow up on it? Are there new technologies that can streamline and improve the quality of climate efforts?
Mats Pellbäck Scharp, Head of Sustainability, Ericsson
-
- 13.40 – 14.20 World-leading research sees biocredits as a solution
Aleksandra Holmlund is spearheading a unique research project aimed at exploring potential financing solutions for enhancing biodiversity. This project is one of the few of its kind globally, and she is now poised to unveil the findings from the pilot studies conducted.
Aleksandra Holmlund, SLU | Orsa besparingsskog
-
- 14.20 – 15.00 Reflections and insights
Anders Enetjärn, Egogain | Lisa Wärn, Svea Green Foundation
-
- 15.00 – 15.30 Coffee break

PASS 2

- 15.30 – 15.55 Swedish Biocredit Alliance
Biocredits for richer biodiversity in Swedish forests - is it time to move from thought to action?
Maria Hedblom, World Forest Forum | Bengt Waldemarson, World Forest Forum
-
- 15.55 – 16.15 Mining a nature positive future
Boliden has set a goal to increase biological diversity in its operations by 2030. What is the company's roadmap to achieve this target?
Sara Carlsén, Biodiversity Coordinator, Boliden
-
- 16.15 – 16.35 Role of the financial sector and how to make it happen?
What is the role of the financial sector when it comes to richer biodiversity? What does it measure, what effects does it have, and what should be followed up on?
Fredrik Nilzén, Head of Group Sustainability, Swedbank
-
- 16.35 – 17.00 Reflections and insights
Tomas Lundmark, professor emeritus i skogsskötsel, World Forest Forum